Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Friday 30 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rather chilly with scattered showers, these mainly in the east.

Today:
A mixture of bright spells and scattered showers. The showers mainly across the north and east. Feeling rather chilly in the shade but quite pleasant in any sunshine.

Tonight:
Showers gradually dying out inland this evening and becoming confined coastal parts of the north. Otherwise becoming dry with clear periods and some patchy frost.

Saturday:
Becoming rather cloudy at times inland with scattered showers. Coastal areas mainly dry with some sunny periods. Still rather cold where it remains cloudy.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Some brightness and a few showers on Sunday, west turning drier later. Cold on Monday with widespread rain and hill snow. Showers or longer spells of rain on Tuesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.